Warning on the limits of your adviser's authority from Dover

This is a clear and prominent warning from Dover on the limits of your adviser's authority.

You should consider these limits before deciding to acquire financial services through your adviser and you should not acquire these services unless you understand and accept these limits. This warning is part of Dover's commitment to the highest possible compliance standards. These standards include making sure you know the limits of your adviser's authority before you decide to acquire a financial service.

Under the Corporations Act Dover is not responsible for anything done by your adviser which is not within the authority provided by Dover in these circumstances.

Your adviser is only authorised to provide advice that complies with the Corporations Act and the related regulations and regulatory guidelines. Your Adviser cannot provide advice or do anything else which breaches a law or an ASIC regulation, is outside of Dover's AFSL or which is not in your best interests or appropriate to your circumstances.

The limits on your adviser's authority include:

- failing to disclose a commission or other amount payable by any person other than you;
- failing to disclose a conflict of interest;
- theft or any other fraudulent activity;
- churning an insurance policy, i.e. an inappropriate recommendation for a new insurance policy for the purpose of generating a commission or a similar fee;
- failing to adequately research a recommended financial product;
- failing to consider your circumstances when recommending a financial or service;
- failing to provide personal advice in the form required under the Corporations Act;
- transferring money to or from an account without your written consent for that specific transfer;
- acquiring or disposing of a financial product without your specific written consent;
- recommending a financial service that a reasonable financial planner would not recommend;
- failing to advise you of a tax liability, stamp duty or similar cost of a recommended action;
- failing to advise you of a negative consequence of a recommended action;
- any act that breaches a law of Australia or a state of Australia including the law of negligence, the criminal law and the corporations law or any ASIC regulation or regulatory guideline; or
- advising on "off the plan" or similar property purchases.

Your adviser must observe these limits on her authority as part of the contract with you.

Dover's license can be read here: Dover's License. We ask that you read Dover's license and understand the limits on your adviser's authority before you decide to accept our advice.

Product disclosure statements (“PDSs”)

If we recommend a particular product, we must provide you with a PDS for that product. The PDS contains the information needed for an informed decision about acquiring a product.

The PDS detail costs and product fees including commissions, and is usually created by the financial institution providing the product.

Getting started with Dover

Getting started with Dover is easy. Simply contact your Adviser to arrange a meeting.

To ensure that this meeting covers all aspects of your financial management we ask that you complete the ‘fact finder’ online here: Honest Money Fact Finder. Ideally, this should be done a few days before we meet with you. This gives us the opportunity to review your information and prepare ourselves well ahead of our initial meeting. If you cannot access the link, please email us and we will provide the fact finder as an editable document for you.

The fact finder asks for an extensive amount of information and it may take time to gather it. Please take the time to do this.

We also appreciate a copy of the most recent accounts and tax returns for you and any related entities such as a trust or a self-managed superannuation fund.

Please provide us with any other information that you feel is relevant to your circumstances.

Getting to know you

We aim to provide advice that suits your circumstances and is generally appropriate and relevant to you. To do this we must first understand your financial profile.

A detailed client questionnaire (‘fact finder’) will be provided. This fact finder is an important document and you should complete it carefully, either before or during our first meeting. The more information you provide the better our advice will be.

Delivery of advice

Once we have met and determined a draft plan for you, we will prepare a ‘statement of advice’ or “SOA”. The SOA will be in writing and will be delivered to you via email. A paper copy may also be presented in person or via post as requested. Your SOA contains the information needed to understand our advice and the basis on which it is made. It includes information about:

1. the specific advice;
2. the reasons for the specific advice;
3. any fees;
4. any associations or relationships that may influence the advice;
5. the implementation plan;
6. any other relevant matters; and
7. Dover’s Client Information Policy.

We will also provide other documents as needed. These documents may include educational material or PDSs, as discussed above.

Record of advice

Once you have been provided with a SOA further advice may be provided in a form known as a record of advice or “ROA”, provided there has been no change in your personal circumstances or the basis of the advice set out in the SOA.

Retention of SOA + ROA

We retain all SOAs and ROAs for at least seven years and you may request a copy of the SOA or ROA at any time within that period. This request may be verbal or in writing.

Implementation of advice

Our statement of advice will contain instructions on how the advice should be implemented. We will work with you to ensure that the advice is properly implemented.

Time limits and responsibility for implementing our advice

You should not act on any recommendation after thirty days of the date of the statement of advice without our written confirmation that our recommendations are still suited to you.

No responsibility will be taken for any advice acted on after thirty days without our separate written confirmation that the advice is still suited to you.

We will not be responsible for any losses connected to our advice if it is not implemented by us, if you do not engage us as your adviser or if you cease to engage us as your adviser.
